National Emergency Briefing

Last November in Westminster, ten of the UK's leading experts briefed an invited audience of over 1,200 politicians and leaders from business, culture, faith, sport and the media. The event was covered by ITV, C4, and the Times.

It set out the implications of climate and nature breakdown for health, food systems, national security and the economy.

The National Emergency Campaign

The aim is to build an irresistible call for the Government to stage a national televised briefing
- so every household in the country hears the same evidence – as the first step towards the urgent, large-scale response now needed.

Further details on the campaign - www.nebriefing.org

We are pleased to say that our MP for South Devon, Caroline Voaden, fully supports this campaign.

This film is only being shown at in-person screenings, not online.

And for 16 or over only.

- Rt Rev John Arnold, Bishop of Salford

"This film isn't designed to sow fear. It's about hope. It's about knowledge as power. The opportunity for grown-up conversations. So our political leaders can no longer pretend it's business as usual, bow to industry lobbyists and kick the can on decisions that affect our very survival through this decade and beyond."
